Qualification Description

One of the fastest-growing fields in the brand communications industry is that of Digital Marketing. Skilled Digital Marketers are some of the most sought-after professionals in the brand communications industry. Digital marketing is a challenging and rewarding vocation for those with a knack for fusing powerful content with equally powerful digital mechanisms for its dissemination to the right target audiences and markets. Inherently strategic in nature, the IIE Bachelor of Commerce (BCom) in Digital Marketing equips students with the skills required to identify the right message and the right digital platforms and mediums to deliver this message for maximum impact.

The qualification brings together all the necessary knowledge and skills to design, build, manage and measure effective digital campaigns weaving together the core skills of digital marketing, social media, online public relations, paid and organic search and measurement programmes.

As part of the experiential component of the qualification, students work in multidisciplinary teams engaging in real-world brand challenges. Action learning is rounded off with the option of an Industry Immersion programme with companies, agencies or consultancies of choice.

Who Is This Qualification Aimed At?

This qualification is aimed at prospective students who want to build careers in the fast-evolving digital marketing and business landscape. Specifically, it equips learners with a strong foundation in digital marketing strategy, analytics, and online consumer behaviour, while developing essential financial, economic, and research skills. Graduates will be prepared to take on roles that require both creativity and analytical thinking, managing digital campaigns, interpreting data for strategic decision-making, and responding to emerging trends with innovative and future-focused solutions.

Curriculum Outline

The curriculum is designed to provide students with a structured progression through core disciplines, fostering both theoretical understanding and applied competence across key areas of study.

The core disciplines included in this programme are:

Modules	Module Purpose
Digital Marketing 1–3	These modules introduce, develop, and refine the theoretical and practical foundations of digital marketing. Students explore the principles of online consumer behaviour, search engine optimisation (SEO), paid advertising, social media marketing, and content strategy. As the modules progress, students engage with advanced campaign planning, analytics interpretation, and integrated marketing communications, applying their knowledge to real-world scenarios. Ethical considerations, data privacy, and emerging digital trends are embedded to ensure future-ready marketers.
Numeracy and Analytical Foundations	These modules provide the quantitative, financial, and economic skills essential for evidence-based decision-making in digital marketing and business. Students gain a solid grounding in financial accounting principles, from preparing and interpreting financial statements to understanding budgeting and cost analysis. Economics modules introduce micro- and macroeconomic concepts, enabling students to evaluate market conditions, industry trends, and economic drivers of consumer behaviour. Quantitative Techniques develops statistical literacy, teaching students how to collect, analyse, and interpret data to support strategic decisions. Together, these modules equip graduates with the ability to analyse complex business environments, assess financial performance, and apply quantitative reasoning to solve marketing and management challenges.
Brand Activation & Brand Challenge	This module applies the theories of strategic brand management and communication to answer real-life client briefs. The focus is on the development and crafting of an innovative brand building strategy and plan that will address complex business and societal challenges. Students will implement brand research to investigate situational, environmental, and commercial scenarios. They will derive consumer insights to drive the execution of original and meaningful solutions to multi-faceted brand challenges. Students work in teams to address real-life working challenges; develop their skills in building and recommending brand solutions; and collaborate with peers in a process of innovative problem solving.
Introduction to Research & Research Practice	Together, these modules build students' capacity to conduct rigorous, ethical, and industry-relevant research in digital marketing. Students learn how to frame research problems, design methodologies, and collect and analyse data. Emphasis is placed on applying research findings to solve marketing challenges, from consumer insight gathering to campaign evaluation. Research Practice serves as the culmination, where students produce a substantial applied research project, demonstrating their ability to generate actionable insights that inform strategic marketing decisions.
